CRI CARR RIGGS & INGRAM®

CRI translates complex government contractor regulations into solutions tailored to your needs.

Why CRI?

CRI's government contracting team works with government contractors to interpret, implement, and comply with regulations while continually improving profit margins, minimizing taxes, enhancing indirect cost strategies, and helping ensure compliance with governmental agencies. Specifically, our team provides auditing, consulting, training, and advisory services to government contractors to navigate ever-changing compliance with the stringent requirements and policies set by the Federal Acquisition Regulations (FAR) and the Cost Accounting Standards Board (CASB), as well as changes to the programs of the Small Business Administration (SBA).

CRI's team of professionals understands the government's complex regulations and can help your organization achieve compliance. Offering services and solutions such as Defense Contract Audit Agency (DCAA) Audit Support, Cost Accounting Standards (CAS), Accounting System and Cost Allocation Services, Proposal and Incurred Cost Submissions, and regulatory and legislative compliance, we can scale our suite of services to fit the unique needs of your business.
